The address of Frank Glasgow, of Lexington, Va., was an outstanding and most interesting feature of the program of the day. He spoke in the interest of ministerial relief. His subject was "A Sacred Trust," and his appeal was in the interest especially of the retired ministers and their widows and orphans, who are beneficiaries of the Southern Presbyterian Church, When presenting Mr. Glasgow to the large audience that heard him. Rev. Henry H. Sweets, D. D., of Louisville, Ky., stated that no elder in the church had given more valuable help in the interest of ministerial relief than has Mr. Glasgow, who has felivered many addresses and presented many suggestions of value in awakening the church to the importance of the duty of the church could be met from the tither are done and others who are beneficiaries.

Montreat, N. C., August 6.—The conference in the interest of Christian education and ministerial relief, at Montreat, began with a sermon by Rev. C. H. Williamson, D. D., of Memphis, Tenn., who was heard by an audience that crowded the auditorium. Dr. Williamson is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Memphis, and in addition to his work as pastor, he engages in much work among the great bulk of population of the city that does not attend service in the crowded streets and in the districts where those who are the more in the sinful live, and he has met with large success in this work.

Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, of Illinois, polled 250 bankers in his State, outside of Chicago, asking them for their opinions on the new currency bill. Sixty-one have replied. Forty-six declared themselves opposed to the bill. eleven were noncemmittal, and four favored the bill.

Those opposed to the bill declared unanimously against government control of the Federal reserve board, and also of the board of directors of each Federal reserve bank on the ground that this would put the currency system of the entire country into the hands of a group of politicians.

President Wilson to-day expressed gratification with progress made on the currency legislation, and confidence that the Glass-Owen bill would be presented to him for his approval without a session of Congress prolonged into the late fall. Assurances to this decitive are given by the Nagarators Coven.

Washington, August 6.—Did you ever know of a man of fair intelligence, who lived in a city of 50,000 inhabitants, and yet did not know the name of the Representative from his own district in Congress? Strange as it may seem, there is such a man, and he lives in one of the most enterprising and wide-sawake cities of the South. Yet this same Southerner does not know the name of a single member of Congress—not even his own member.

The doorkeepers in the House are honest men. To-day one of them—thimself a Southerner—called to a group of newspaper men and said: "See that the time of the statement that this man, although his member of the statement that this man, although his provincing of the statement that this man, although his provincing of the levator? Which one? I asked. Any particular person?"

"No, just any one will do, he said. I don't know any of them."

"Then, I asked," the doorkeeper said, "if he did not want to see his own member. To that the reply was made that the did not know who his member was.
